Spirituality – a definition

At St John's Upper Holloway CE Primary school we describe spirituality as 'an appreciation and cherishing of what is good, joyful, truthful and beautiful, and, in relationship with others, of what is generous, creative and loving. The spirit of a person is seen in acts of courage and perseverance, in dealing with both setbacks and praise, in endeavour and enquiry'.

This definition is closely linked to our core Christian values of love, creativity, thankfulness, truthfulness, friendship, perseverance and courage.

Our aims for spirituality at St John's

We aim to provide the right learning environment and opportunities to enable the spiritual development of all pupils through the following objectives;

- Develop an appreciation of their uniqueness and value as a child made in the image of God;
- Develop an understanding of the distinctive ethos of this church school as well as the context, language and symbolism of the Christian faith;
- Enabling children to make the links between the Church and Biblical teachings, the life of the school and the wider community and how these impact on their own understanding of themselves and their place within the world today;
- Develop knowledge and understanding of the school's core Christian values and the Biblical teaching that underpins them;
- Develop an awareness of and respect for other people's beliefs and faiths and the ability to articulate their own;
- Develop an appreciation of what it means to be a part of a community (e.g. using their gifts and abilities in the service of others);
- Develop strategies to build good mental health (see mental health policy);
- Foster self-awareness and encourage pupils to make informed decisions;
- Develop the skills and language required to enable them to reflect upon the big questions and mysteries of life;
- Begin to understand and make sense of their own feelings and emotions around certain encounters and events that occur in their life;
- Develop an awareness that experiences of disappointment, failure and loss may be occasions for spiritual growth;
- Understand the value of difference and diversity through involvement with others;
- Encourage curiosity, creativity and imagination;
- Develop a capacity to value the natural world, a sense of awe and wonder and a commitment to care for creation;
- Allowing children the security and opportunity to explore and express feelings and emotions and to celebrate diversity;
- Providing opportunities for reflection and prayer including silence and stillness;
- Sharing feelings and experiences that foster hope, joy, reassurance and encouragement;
- Providing an environment that promotes space to reflect, think and wonder.

- Assemblies and collective worship, Prayer days, Vision days: to consider our relationship with God and to use periods of quiet reflection to question our behaviour or aspire to be better; to be aware of religious mystery and its capacity to entrance; to reflect on our school vision and values and consider how these help to shape us as individuals and as a school community
- PE: to enjoy collective endeavour; to take pleasure in our bodies and their capabilities.
- Literacy: to be able to express and communicate our thoughts and feelings; to listen to others and appreciate other points of view.

- ❖ Regular discussion at staff and governor meetings alongside the school's Christian vision and values;
- ❖ Sharing of classroom work and practice;
- ❖ Ensuring that staff have a clear understanding of what spirituality means in this school by providing them with induction and development training;
- ❖ Evidence from pupils' work, e.g. reflective diary, RE books, SMSC work, creative writing, art;
- ❖ Regular inclusion in the SEF;
- ❖ CPD opportunities and sharing examples of good practice with other schools.
